OHIO DEPARTMENT of EDUCATION (ODE) - The new superintendent for OHIO public schools has a local connection! He graduated from Bath, ONU and was at Elida early in his educational career.

The following was printed in the Lima News on May 11, 2022.

The State Board of Education of Ohio today selected Stephen Dackin as the 39th superintendent of public instruction for Ohio and leader of the Ohio Department of Education. Dackin will guide 1.7 million Ohio K-12 students, oversee the development of academic standards and the licensing of teachers. The budget for the Department of Education in fiscal year 2022 was $12,653,875,388. "After two and a half years of pandemic-affected learning, Ohio students and educators face many challenges. It's heartening that the State Board of Education moved deliberately to fulfill the state superintendent role with a proven leader who has throughout his career emphasized high expectations for all students and recognized the importance of empowering parents with high-quality education options," said Chad L. Aldis, vice president for Ohio policy in a press release from the Thomas B. Fordham Institute, that has a stated mission to improve student outcomes, boost upward mobility, and dramatically increase the number of young Americans prepared for college, career, and citizenship. "We look forward to working with the State Board and Superintendent Dackin on policies that will improve educational outcomes and help every child to reach his or her potential."

A graduate of Bath High School and Ohio Northern University, Dackin has more than 40 years of service in education. Dackin has experience in both post-secondary and PreK12 education settings, having served as a school district superintendent, school principal and classroom teacher. He recently served as superintendent of School and Community Partnerships at Columbus State Community College and, prior to that, superintendent of Reynoldsburg City Schools. He was a previous finalist for the state superintendent's job in 2011.

"It is a great day for the State of Ohio and our education community as we welcome Mr. Dackin as our next superintendent of public instruction. His leadership, experience, vision for the future, and commitment to supporting students will help position Ohio's education system to be the best in the nation," said State Board of Education President Charlotte McGuire in a press release from the Ohio Department of Education.

State Board of Education vice-president Martha Manchester commented, "We are very excited to have selected Steve Dackin as our next superintendent. We think he has a lot of great ideas that will help more Ohio students."

Steve's brother Rich Dackin, superintendent of Bath Local Schools had this comment: "Steve has always been passionate about education and will want to be a great servant leader for Ohio's schools.

I am extremely proud of him and am excited to see him in his new role as Ohio's next Superintendent of Public Education." "I congratulate Steve Dackin on his selection as Superintendent of Public Instruction by the State Board of Education," Gov. Mike DeWine said in a statement.

"His experience, both as a member of the Board and in public education, will help him be an effective voice for Ohio's students and their parents as he leads the Department of Education."

Stephanie Siddens held the position on an interim basis after Paolo DeMaria retired in September 2021. The State Board of Education selected Dackin by a vote of 14 to 4, with one abstention.

The start date is yet to be determined.

Dackin and his wife Susan live in Columbus and have two daughters, Jessica and Erika.

Message from the President ~ ~

The weather went from winter to summer, I think spring got jumped over this year. I am hoping that many of you will join us for our June meeting to hear from our active teachers that received our grant money this past year. We would love to have a good representation and see many of you again after having to be inside so much the past few years.

In August we are planning to meet at one of the Metro Parks so that we can be outside and enjoy the weather. Details will be coming in the next newsletter, so save Thursday, August 4th.

Your board has been working on updating the bylaws. It has been quite a while since the bylaws have been reviewed. We will present these changes at the August meeting to be voted on at the October meeting.

The STRS election results seem to be sending a loud message that many of us are concerned about what has been happening and the decisions that have been made. My hope is that the new members will ask questions to the "powers that be" to clarify in language that I understand why the decisions are made about my retirement income.

My time as president is coming to an end this year, and I have thoroughly enjoyed this opportunity. This is a term limited position, and I hope someone will step forward to lead this important organization. I will be glad to answer questions and help support you. Please let me know if you would be interested in keeping us moving forward.

Thank you to all that have joined our organization to keep it strong.
